

GEMSTORY was founded by Glenn in 2013 as a result of his immense passion for crystals. He started out with the intention of delivering positivity through the power of crystals to the masses. He believes that every gem comes with its unique vibration energy that resonates with each individual, which will help them in their daily lives.

He hopes to remove the traditional impression that people have towards crystals and integrate crystals as part of the current lifestyle trends, which had created a significant change to the crystal industry in Singapore since beginning of 2014.

He always believe that he is a Story teller and an Evangelist for his CRYSTALS and that all of these crystals are his little “Angels”. By sharing the stories behind each and every piece of the unique crystal to their prospective owners, it creates a meaningful relationship between the crystals and his customers. He hopes to create these experiential paths to all crystals lovers in his own unique delivery and sharing his knowledge to all.

The first retail experience for GEMSTORY was the launch of its first push cart located at Bugis Junction Mall in 2014. As more people get to know about crystals through Glenn’s sharing, this has in turn raised the profile of GEMSTORY over time. In August 2015, GEMSTORY setup its first boutique shop at Mohamed Sultan road.

Glenn’s passion for crystals has led him to provide consultation services at his boutique shop. The consultation services include and are not limited to the usage of crystals for healing, understanding the metaphysics behind crystals etc. This is a value-added service to GEMSTORY’s customers since the launch of its boutique, He strongly believes that each and every crystal is unique and not all crystals are suitable for every individual.

Therefore, he goes the extra mile and takes great effort in ensuring that all his customers pick the crystal(s) that suit them best.
